HUMMELL TO FACE TRIAL. Little Criminal Lawyer Accused of Conspiracy.

NEW YORK, July 15 .- Abraham Hummell, the attorney under indictment for criminal conspiracy in connection with the Dodge-Morse divorce tangle, will not be permitted to see the minutes of the grand jury.

Judge Davy in the criminal branch of the Supreme Court today declared that after inspecting the testimony he was convinced that there was evidence to sustain the indictment.

"I might say," he added, "that there is evidence to warrant conviction."
Hummell and Benjamin Steinhardt, another attorney, indicted jointly with him, and Charles F. Dodge were called on to plead to the indictments against them. Hummell, the attorney under indict-several weeks ago, reaches a total of $9.35.75, exclusive of real estate, according to the inventory filed in the Probate Court Thursday.

The various items are as follows: Twenty-eight hundred and twenty-four acres of land in various Missouri counties; notes and interest, $566; accounts, $100; cash on deposit in the Mechanics National Bank of St. Louis and the Bank of Webster Groves, $409.05; certificates of deposit in the National Bank of Commerce of St. Louis, $304.70; goods and chattels, $376. them.
Dodge was not in court. Hummell's counsel entered a demurrer.
Justice Davy overruled the demurrer and appointed September 18 for the beginning of the trial of Hummel and Steinhardt.

BANK RECEIVERSHIP CASE IS POSTPONED

Judge McElhinney Wants to Hear From Attorney-General Before Deciding on Reversing Order Previously Made.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., July 18.-Friends of Secretary of State Swanger say he believes he has been "left to hold the bag" in the Lewis bank receivership case. Mr. Swanger does not like the job, and is trying to surrender it. Criticisms by former Gov. Stephens and W. F. In another moment this trickling vellow stream had deepened in color to a rich brown, and then it became almost inky black. The negro driver was so astonished that he could not turn the key to shut off the water from the plug, until, to his greater amazement, the lid of the water-wagon tank was blown off, and, from all sides of the wagon, a sable flood poured into the

A barber in the barber shop just a few feet distant escorted a shampoo customer to the washstand and turned customer to the washstand and turned on a full stream, preparatory to dousing the patron's head under it.

The water came rushing out as black as the ace of spades and the astonished barber sprang back, drawing his snampoo patron with him, and gazed at the curious sight with something like horror in his eyes.

What the mischlef had happened to Old Mississippi that had thus changed her in a twinkling from a clear and sparkling blond to the most sinister and forbidding of brunettes?

The question was asked in varying forms by many persons in that vicinky who chanced to turn on water from the dity's water supply about that thus. They remembered the "dark-brown" water of the preceding Sunday, but tais of Wednesday was far more deeply intensified in hue and its appearance alarmed them.

But no explanation of the strange flow was forthcoming. Only the black water came. It was a mystery of the mains.

At the Water Commissioner's office

Mains.

At the Water Commissioner's office it was said Thursday that the "blackwater" supply of Wednesday was due both to the mistake made at the Watrworks Station last Sunday, ween the contents of an unsettled reservoir were contents of an unsettled reservoir were turned into the mains, and to the further fact that the pipes are being repaired on Pine street, in the vicinity of Sixth, and some of the mains had been disconnected for a day or more.

When this happens, it was pointed out, the first flow of water through the mains brings out all the mud that may have accumulated, and to this, in all likelihood, was added a further supply of mud from that sent into the city mains by mistake Sunday—"some of the holdover mud," the Water Commissioner calls it—and hence the somber-colored liquid of Wednesday. No complaints have been received from other sections of the city, it was said.

"And it won't happen again," says the Water Commissioner.

CHICKENS MUST

to Arrange for Double Hanging, July 24.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Eisleben, Thursday, notified Jailer Dawson to get the callows in the Jail yard in readinesss for the double execution of July 24, when Henry Heusack and Lambert Niehaus will hang, unless Gov. Folk should interfere. The men were to have been hanged June 24, but the Governor granted a month's respite. It is not thought the execution will again be ostponed.

To prepare the gallows, Jailer Dawson by Judge Smith Wednesday, preventing is compelled to remove 50 chickens that have used it as a roosting-place several directing it to be held at the local months. The structure has, in fact, postoffice until final hearing of the served as a chicken-coop for the jailer's oultry.

Heusack is to be executed for the murder of his father-in-law, August Ra-phael, whom he killed with a hatchet in the spring of 1903.

Niehaus will suffer the death penalty for killing his brother-in-law with a shotgun, Dec. 20, 1908.

Lewis had been arrested many times, but had never been imprisoned because of his almost superhuman knack of getting out of tight places. Only last week he escaped with shackles on from a posse of revenue men in Rowan County hills.

Jackson then took up Lewis' trail and tracked him from Rowan to this county. He finally located him at Olympida with a woman companion.

Lewis bought a ticket for Texas, and boarded the train. He was armed with two revolvers and a Winchester rifle. Jackson waited until Lewis secured a seat in the car, and then drew his revolver and demanded Lewis' surrender.

The moonshiner made an attempt to secure his arms, but was subdued.

Lewis is said to have killed several men.

s how her son was made to profit what his father had learned. My husband was always fond of offee, and after his business took him quently into a German community drank it more, with the result that kidneys became affected, and he suffered greatly with pains and de-apendency, till, as he says, 'coffee nearly killed me!' So he stopped using it, and began to drink Postum Coffee. It cured him; and in a very short time his kidneys resumed their normal func-tions, his pains were allayed, and the condency which had nearly driven crazy ceased to trouble him. My little boy, a year old, had suf-red ever since he was weared, from not properly digest the milk he drank.

It passed out of his bowels in hard sometimes large and again like small pellets, frequently producing diarrhea, and then we would have to call in the doctor. But the trouble returned, again and again.

We used to give him a taste of Postum Coffee occasionally, and as I saw that he relished it and realized how much good it had done his father, I beeffect was so salutary that I grad-I used only enough milk to give it col-or. He thrived wonderfully on it. He is over two years old now, and his di-gest on is all right. Postum has made him uncommonly leaves him uncommonly large and strong and healthy. I give him a bottle full four es a day." Name given by Postum Battle Creek, Mich.

Gen. John W. Noble.

INDIANS FIGHTING

Gen. John W. Noble of St. Louis Addresses Convention at Oklahoma City.

OKLAHOMA CITY, O. T., July 13 .culiarly interested in the development of Oklahoma and the Indian Territory because of his former connection with the Interior Department, spoke to the Single Statehood Convention yesterday. Congressman H. W. Blair of New Hampshire also delivered himself of some views on prohibition. He thought the people of the territory able to make their own laws regarding drink.

No sooner had the convention been alled to order when a fight began over the chairmanship. The McGuire faction and the whip and it was through their forts that R. L. Williams of Durant, T., was made temporary chairman. John Embry was made permanent chairman, and O. E. Hunter of Chicaka-.

This great annual event, always fraught with extraordinary interest, will this year appeal with greater intensity than ever to the thrifty women of new St Lous and vicinity.

For months we have been planning and buying on a gigantic scale. The results of our tireless, intelligent efforts will be apparent tomorrow morning, when will dawn the

Most Stupendous Mill Remnant Sale Ever Held

Brilliant and profitable as you have found the ordinary July sales of this character they are not a circumstance when compared with the phenomenal bargain event about to be launched at the Globe tomorrow.

Whole products of mills and factories were offered to us in response to the untiring efforts of wide-awake department managers directed to all the reputable manufacturers everywhere.

The Store That's Popular With Everybody.

Price Concessions Were Marvellous

Due largely to the fact that the cool weather which prevailed throughout the entire Spring season kept business considerably below normal. We were overwhelmed with propositions from producers of high-class commodities, all so favorable that the hardest part was in deciding what not to accept.

We feel that we have selected wisely, and that in inviting you to the control of the c this most extraordinary sale we are extending opportunities unprecedented in the world of merchandising.

Every Advantage We Gained is Transferred to You! Every want you may have in the way of garments for personal wear may be most satisfactorily supplied, and in most instances

At Less Than Half Regular Prices!

It is impossible to give a complete catalogue of the wonderful bargains the sale affords. The appended items are merely representative. If you have any leaning toward economy, let nothing hinder your early attendance at this colossal, remarkable sale.

Naval Department Shows Collection of Ancient Plates of American Navy's Father.

By Wire From the Washington Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, July 13 .- An interest g collection of steel engravings of John Paul Jones has been placed on exhibition in the reception room adjoining the office of the Secretary of the Navy. Many of these plates are more than 100 years old and were made after the faous fight of the Bon Homme Richard with the British sloop-of-war Scrapis.

Most of the plates were made in France and England. In several the great naval hero is caricatured as a pirate and he is represented in ridiculous

He is standing behind the gunwale of his ship, through which a cannon ball has just passed, Jones has four revolvers in his belt, one in his right hand and a sword in his left. The right hand and a sword in the solid ship is represented as being on fire and is literally shot to pieces. The great hero is literally shot to pieces, therety individe

Another, which shows the hatred of the British at this time, is a colored print. The costume consists of a short, blue coat, which fits about as snug as would a salt sack; the trousers, the legs of which are very wide, reach a little below the knees, and the great Admiral is in his stocking feet. In this plate he is also portrayed as a Mongolian. In a wide belt, four large and cumbersome pistols, another in one hand, and in his other hand is a curved sword of the pattern used a century ago. Cannon, powder-horns and battle-axes are strewn about the deck of the ship, which is in flames. Many dead sailors are lying upon the deck.

If this committee finds it convenient o enlarge the scope of its inquiry the indications point to an expose of a condition of affairs in the big establishment the like of which was not dreamed of when the investigators first turned on the light. Charges extending from petty graft to grand larceny are loudly demanding the keen scrutiny of the committee over which Assistant Secretary Keep, as the personal representalished in the Post-Dispatch that the cost of machinery, equipment, supplies, etc., is outrageously excessive, as compared with the cost to private concerns of the same material.

Since this investigation began one thing has been strongly brought to public attention in a way that may compel action by Congress. It is a remarkable fact that of all the departments of the Government the printing office alone is where absolute discretion is vested in the head. Congress makes an annual appropriation of a lump sum approximating $7,000,000 for the conduct of the printing office. The distribution of this enormous sum of money is vested in the public printer. He is expected out of it to do the public printing, and that is all Congress seemingly cares to know.

Instances are recounted with circum-

know.

Instances are recounted with circumstantial detail of men serving on two or three payrolls and drawing a salary from each. The electrical supplies for the establishment are alleged to afford a fruitful field for inquiry. Certain machinery was recently installed at a cost of about $75,000. Experts visited the office, inspected this machinery, and said it was worth about half that sum.

PARIS, July 13 .- Senator Chauncey M. Depew, before he sailed from New York a fortnight ago, placed his resignation as director of the Equitable Life Asty's amiable counsel at $20,000 a year, in the hands of Paul Morton, Chairman of the society's board.

Senator Depew, who is at Elysee Palace Hotel here, so informed the Post-Dispatch correspondent this morning. Said the Senator: "Just before I came abroad I handed my resignation to Mr. Morton. I resigned because I am 72 years old. I have lately surrendered other legal retainers, and I decided to surrender my retainer from the Equitable before I should reach my next

"I am reducing my business obligations, which have been so accumulating as to leave no time for that leisure and rest which should be enjoyed by a man 72 years of age, no matter how vigor-

Senator Depew appeared entirely unruffled by the dispatches from New York stating that the Equitable Society had loaned $250,000 to the Depew Improvement Co., in which he is interestterest whatever in the said company, which had been running for years.

"It became a profitable enterprise, the settlement containing 5000 inhabitants, having railroad connections and many nanufacturing enterprises, before I was aced to purchase stock. There are a large number of stockholders," said Depew, in his charmingly fluent "About one-third of the stock is owned abroad. All, or nearly all, the stockholders bought before I purchased my stock.

MORTON SAYS DEPEW

HAS NOT RESIGNED. NEW YORK, July 13 .- Senator Depew has not resigned at a director of the Equitable Life Asnouncement made today by Chairman Paul Morton of the Equitable when his attention was directed to an interview with the Senator in Paris. Just before Senator Depew sailed he called and told Morton that he would resign and that he had no objection to his $20,000-a-year position being abolished, said the chairman. Senator Depew's connection with the society as counsel will terminate Aug. 1.

that purpose, they have found it im-possible to secure the co-operation of the widely scattered body of stockhold ers, and they did not desire to become parties to a reorganization which would have wiped out the stock of those who were unable to pay their proportion

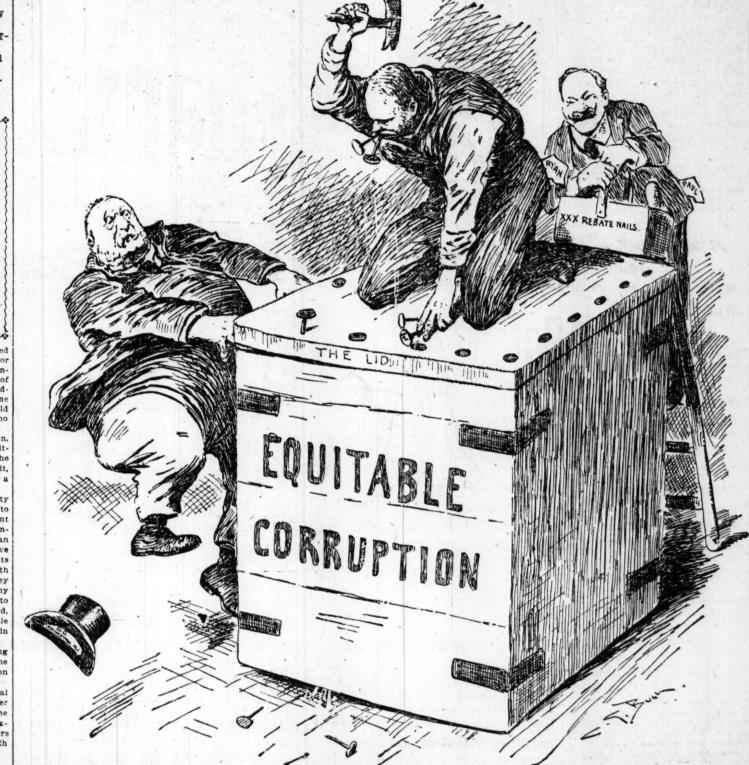

"If the Equitable company will join, as an individual, with the other creditors in taking the company out of the receiver's hands and reorganize it. there will not only be no loss but a profit for all participating.

"Separate valuations of the property by the receiver, by parties desiring to State Insurance Department had appraised at $150,000; that as a member of take an interest and by other competent the Equitable's Executive Committee he did not advise the loan, but voted for cern, worth from $200,000 to recre than it and that the loan and interest re- $500,000 above all Habilities. siloo, 000 salaries of President Alexander and Vice-President Hyde, and $60,000 salary of Vice-President McIntyre, which have been cut off by resignations. Some very large salaries in the medical department are being adjusted.

"What is your salary, and is it affected by this reduction?" was asked of Mr. Morton.

"I have no salary." he replied. "It has not yet been fixed by the board of directors, and is a matter for future adjustment."

No announcement has been made of the salaries to be paid the trustees of Hyan stock—Grover Cleveland, Justico O'Brien and George Westinghouse. A reporter asked their secretary, George F. Parker, what amount is paid them and by whom. He replied: "We don't know anything about that."

A fine suite of rooms, the most desirable in the Equitable building, is being fitted up for the trustees. The rooms are on a Broadway corner of the third floor. They formerly were occupied by some of the Equitable's high-salaried officials.

The question has been raised whether the trustees are entitled to receive any salary or emolument of any kind from the Equitable Society, as they serve only Thomas F. Ryan.

MRS. RYAN MAKES A GIFT TO EDUCATION

Special to the Post-Dispatch WASHINGTON, July 13 .- Mrs. Thor as F. Ryan, wife of Thomas F. Ryan of the Equitable Life Assurance Co., has made a gift of $12,000 to the Georgetown University here and has promised to give $50,000 more in the near future Some time ago someone presented $125, 000 to the university, which is the oldest Catholic institution of its kind in America, but the name of the donor was kept a secret. It was given to be used in the erection of a hall at the university. This building is now in course of erection and it will be called Ada Ryan Hall, in honor of Mrs. Ryan, whom it was learned was the secret donor of the university. cial to the Post-Dispatch.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13 .- And now it has fallen to the lot of Roseville, re., to claim ownership to an Enoch Arden story. The Enoch Arden is harles Hyatt, a sailor, the Philip Ray George Rand and the Annie Lee was Mary Holmes when Hyatt became her husband 27 years ago. They have five hildren. Tennyson's Annie Lee had three. Hyatt disappeared in 1896 and returned recently to learn that he himself was dead and that his wife was now the mother of two more children. Then he went away as Enoch Arden did. Mrs. Hyatt-Rand is not so fortunate as was Annie Lee of the poem She has lost her second husband, too. On the day before she married, 27 years ago, she had her fortune told. "You will have two husbands," clared the sooth-sayer. The prophecy as come true. Mrs. Hyatt-Rand today has two husbands. But each has frightened the other away, and tolay she is worse off than if she were

It was as near the romance in real ife as Tennyson himself could well have wished it. Hyatt and Rand knew each other and were fast friends-just as Philip and Enoch were—and finally George Rand was invited to come and take up his abode with the Hyatts.

The First Cloud. The Hyatts had a pretty home in the town, and all went well until Hyatt's store began to prove itself a poor investment, and there came a day when Hyatt, without a word to any one, walked out of the house and never came back. His wife worried much and wrote many letters, but not a trace of the man could she find, yet she never ost hope even as years elapsed. George Rand had been most consider ate of her. He had remained in the household and his little attentions were ust as welcome as those of Philip Ray

Finally George Rand asked Mary Hyatt to be his wife. 'Wait!' she said, just as Annie Lee and said to Philip Ray of romance.
But waiting brought no news. So Mrs. Hyatt decided to sue for divorce. The Town Clerk, Ryan, prepared the papers and was about to file them with the court of the county when news came. It was a letter from Mrs. Hyatt Sr., the mother of Charles, to her daughter-in-law. "Charles is dead," read the lines, and Mrs. Hyatt believed it, as did all the town.

to Annie Lee, Enoch's wife.

Takes a Second Husband

So the divorce was dropped and six years ago Mary Myatt became the wife of George Rand, just as Annie Arden married Philip Ray. Rand became one of the important men in the Oregon lumber districts, and more than one girl in the town envied Widow Hyatt in getting such a good catch for her second husband.

Then came to Roseville a few days ago a man whom no one knew. He walked the streets for a morning, but beyond a passing glarde no one paid attention to the man. He was windtanned, sunburned, heavily bearded. His gait rolled like a seafaring man survey was a splain that he had been a sailor. Those he questioned did not guess that the man who was asking where was Mrs. Mary Hyatt and her children was Charley Hyatt himself. They did not know when they told him that Mary Hyatt was the wife of another that they were cutting deep into his soul. Instead of going back to the home he had left, Hyatt resolved to go away, this time surciy never to return. But he met Leroy Babcock, his cousin. They walked the streets together. As if fate had abeen a hand, whom should they meet but Mrs. Rand.

She passed them without a look of recognition. In the bearded man of the sea she did not know her husband that once was. And so he went away without a word, just as Enoch Arden did. But before he went he told his story to those who warted to know.

"Yes." saud Hyatt. "I did leave home."

Shipped as a Sailor.
"Yes," said Hyatt, "I did leave home years ago with the intention of never returning. What my reasons were then concerns nobody but myseif. I shipped as a sailor, and made several trips around the world. around the world.

"Some time ago, when in Naples, I heard an organ grinder playing Home, Sweet Home. The vision of the little home in Oregon came over me like a wave—I wanted to see my children lightly between the world wave in the little home in Oregon came over me like a little home in Oregon came over me like a little home in Oregon little little home littl

"When I reached the old town no-body knew me with my heavy beard and my sailor's gait. People whom I knew well passed me in the street withknew well passed me in the street without a second glance. At last 1 learned that my children had all gone away to other places and that my wife nad married again. Then I met Leroy Bathcock, who identified me, and as we waiked down the street my wife passed me. She didn't know me and I gave no sign, but next day everybody in town knew that I was back and she heard the news. So did George Rand. He left her at once, and I am going away now myself and I shall never come back. I feel no resentment. Let them abide in peace if they want. I shall never bother them.

It took but a day for Mrs. Hyatt-Rand to make up her mind as well, she gave up the house. It was rented to another family. She went to live with an old friend, who gave her employment and sorrowed with her. So did many more.

LANSING, Mich., July 13.-Every once n a while William Linus Stannard who represents the iron principality in the Lower House of the Michigan Leg-islature, chuckles to himself and says: "Well, I guess that's going some." Why does Stannard chuckle?

Because he is the only man in the Michigan Legislature, and probably the Truxton Beale may be permitted to see only officeholder in the State who ran his child, Walker Blaine Beale, in acahead of Roosevelt last fall.

"Guess that's goin' some." His district is referred to as the Iron principality because of its size. Com-prising the counties of Iron, Ontonogan, Baraga and Keweenaw, with the latter's island appendage of Isle Royale, it covers 3962 square miles. If Stannard lived on Isle Royale and went home the nearest way-Chicago, Duluth, Port Arthur, Can., and boat to the island-he could draw mileage to the tune of 2000 miles at ten cents

Just to show that his district is in the right class, here are a few figures on the area of principalities, grand

Charles H. Aple, in Prison, Is a Former St. Louisan-Harrison I. Drummond Is One of His Subscribers.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, July 13.—Charles H. Aple, a former St. Louis man, has been arrested here and is in prison on a charge of attempting to extort money, perferred by Edwin M. Post, a member of the Stock Exchange. Aple when arrested said he was a zolicitor for Town Topics, a society paper here. He had subscriptions at $500 per set from some member of nearly every New York prominent family for a publication called "America's Smart Set," and some from prominent men in Mrs. B. W. Among the names that appeared on Aple's subscription list for America's Emart Set was that of Mrs. E. R. Thomas, wife of the millionaire banker and since retained her, despite the mother's protest.

THE MAYOR'S LEGAL FARCE.

It is unfortunate that the laws provide no better way for the Mayor to get rid of an appointee whose work does not please him than by such farcical trials as that of Health Commissioner Simon, in which the Mayor is accuser, judge and executioner. appointee of the Mayor whose work is not satisfac. Senate as well, and also from the bar of the State tory should resign, and if he will not resign he of New York. should be dismissed, but his dismissal at the Mayor's will should not be dignified by the name of a trial.

The Post-Dispatch holds no brief for Health Commissioner Simon, whose activity in his office appears to have been largely political. His conduct in the case of Dr. Runge, whose earnest efforts to place the management of the Insane Asylum upon a high basis of efficiency were fatally obstructed by Dr. Simon, was sufficient to entitle him to retirement,

The Mayor may easily find-might have found at the time to the relief of the persecuted Dr. Rungesufficient ground to warrant Dr. Simon's dismissal. But the Mayor should not be put in the position of pretending to give a fair trial to an appointee

Instead of shaking his bushy gray locks playfully at the critics who delight to tickle him now to hear drawl of appreciation, Mark Twain today might be setting around a boatstore or in a hotel lobby alking about the good old times on the river and enting the encroachment of the railroads.

BASHFUL MR. ROCKEFELLER.

John D. Rockefeller answered by attorney the Rev. Dr. Gladden's vigorous attack upon his methods of making money.

Now he appears, by attorney, before the bar of public opinion to answer Mes Tarbell's indictment of his honesty in the Corrigan case.

Has Mr. Rockefeller neither tongue nor power of speech that he must pay attorneys to defend his bly no more expensive as a place of living than ral character and his business methods? Is it Washington. ecause he needs something more than the facts to serve as a defense, or because he needs a mercenary cience to present his case? Or is Mr. Rockefeller too modest to sound his own virtues?

$73,333.94 FOR PINK TEAS.

It cost the Board of Lady Managers $73,333.94 for nk teas and other functions. This is official. Does anybody doubt that the pink teas and other functions were worth $73,333.94? To the lady managers they were worth twice that, and the student manners in the United States wouldn't have sed their goings on for ten times $73,333.94. The Lady Managers constituted one of the vital-est exhibits at the World's Fair. The wonderment of foreigners was beyond their power to express; and Americans hope they will never try to express it.

That the cost of this exhibit of manners was only $73,333.94 is almost as surprising as the functions themselves. How such wonderful functions could be produced for such a sum will always be the despair of high financiers who think nothing of spending $100,000 for one advertising dinner.

Foreigners who visited the World's Fair will never forget the Board of Lady Managers. Hence they will never forget the World's Fair. Hence again they will never forget us. As a mnemonic clew to the social element of American life the Board of Lady Managers is therefore of highest value.

Secretary Bonaparte has brought strange notions with him into his Cabinet office. He starts out by returning railroad passes sent to him by the railroads. For many years Mr. Bonaparte has been in danger of being classed as a crank. Now, at the risk of insubordination, he ranges himself alongside of Mr. Robert Baker, retired statesman, of Brooklyn. Who knows but his next move will be another covert attack upon his superior by the announcement that he will not use naval vessels for his private pleasure?

RESULTS OF MONOPOLY.

The latest bulletin of the Bureau of Labor shows that living expenses have risen since 1890 from 25 to 50 per cent. Wages remain the same.

This is a telling commentary upon the gospel of prosperity so diligently preached for 10 years past. Practically every article of staple consumption is controlled by a monopoly. The productive power of the country advances by leaps and bounds, but the man on salary, wages or fixed income, gets no share of the benefit accruing. All goes into the treasury of monopoly.

The Russian Czar, the one absolute monarch in Christendom, has no such taxing power as that possessed by monopoly in the United States. By protective tariffs, by special privileges procured often by corrupt means, the combines are enabled to levy a tax upon every citizen whenever he puts food in his mouth or clothes on his back.

The conclusions of the Labor Bureau should suggest some serious thinking. A people cannot endure prosperity of this kind forever. The public policy which has led to such results must stand condemned.

Senator Depew's motives may be a little twisted, In view of the fact that the Mayor is responsible for but there will be no quarrel with his purpose to his administration it is proper that he possess the retire from the Equitable directorate. OREGONIAN SENSITIVENESS.

People who are planning a visit to the Portland Exposition should learn how to pronounce the name of the river that flows through the Fair City. Oregonians are touchy on the subject,

A lady wrote an ode to celebrate the opening. She was a New England poetess and not up on Oregonia orthoepy:

"When Clark and Lewis first beheld The rippling Williamette, The virgin forest round them lay,

With many a snare beset." The Portland Oregonian resented the error in some verses closing thus:

"But, indeed, ma'am, When we find our bright Willamette Mispronounced, we feel you need, ma'am,

To be told it rhymes with --- 1" The sensitive nature of the Oregonian should be respected. Besides, there is a mnemonic merit in the lesson. Should you, in the presence of an Oregonian, not mispronounce, but commit the worse offense of forgetting the name of their much-loved "learnt Mark Twain the river." This fact makes river, just think of what you said (or, if you are a woman, of what you heard your husband or brother say) when you hit your thumb instead of the

CABINET SALARIES.

The London Spectator, commenting upon Mr. Root's surrender of a law practice worth $300,000 a year, to accept a Cabinet office, says:

"His salary at Washington will be about enough to hire a house in that very expensive capital." Compared with official salaries under the British Government ours are nominal.

The five principal Secretaries of State-Foreign Office, War, Home, Colonies and Indian affairs-receive, each, $25,000 a year. The First Lord of the Admiralty $22,000 the Chief Secretary for Ireland $22,000, the Chancellor of the Exchequer $25,000. Mr. Balfour, as First Lord of the Treasury, receives $25,000. Other high officers are paid in proportion. Even these salaries do not enable the Cabinet officers to make ends meet, especially the Prime Minister and Foreign Secretary. And London is proba-

WHEN AUTOMOBILE PRICES COME DOWN.

Many are now alive who remember when a fair piano cost $1000 and that degree of excellence now covered by $400 cost $2000. With the introduction of the upright came lower prices and now there is a piano in every flat. The cartoonist foresees the automobile becoming equally popular because of a reduction in cost and indicates some consequences.

HE Boss took me out riding in his automo-bile yesterday," said Sammy, the office boy, "and say! The Boss and his bubble

"Why?" asked Eddie, the other office boy; "did anything happen?" "Well," said Sammy, "nobody was killed, but the lid was off on nearly everything else. "You see, the Boss knows if there's anything he knows more about than anything else, it is his auto mobile. He's bragging the other day. 'I never have any trouble,' he said. T've had my machine six weeks, have been out twice a week at least, have had but three accidents—not counting a few bumps that didn't put the machine out of business haven't had to pay but three fines, and all it has cost me for repairs is about $25 a week.'

"I thought he was bragging too soon, and I was s little 'leary' when he asked me to get in with him when he started for a spin. But gee! What's the use of being on earth if you're not game for a little excitement now and then? So I got in with him.

"The Boss says he'll be the shover, and I think it's a funny way to have fun—shove a big wagon around. But he don't shove it; that's just the Boss' way of pronouncing that French word that means motorman in white language; He puts me on the front seat with him; then he gets in, toots the horn three times, pulls a rod and starts something to thumping like fury, turns a wheel, and we start off. "Except for but ing into three beer wagons and the tail of a street car, and hitting the curb on both sides of the street a couple of times, we got along all right until we come to Jefferson avenue.

"But then's when the real thing comes off. As we get to Jefferson avenue, a carriage come along, and swings 'way out into the middle of the street. The Boss toots the horn, but the driver doesn't stop.
So the Boss turns every wheel and pulls every rod he can reach—and just then the machine hits a wet place and slides, zip, into a mule pulling a dirt

"The mule doesn't like it. He rears up and comes down with his front feet on the front of the machine. Then he rears again, and comes down a little harder; then he jumps away, turns around, and con-mences to kick. Splinters and glass scatter worse than soft-drink bottles at a Sunday ball game; for that crazy mule certainly is busy.

the auto. The driver wants to lick the Boss-who, as soon as he gets over being scared the mule is going to step in his lap, gets as mad as the driver. But all at once the Boss finds a lever that II still work, pulls it, and away we go. After awhile we come to a nice quiet place, and the Boss finds a broken lamp, a broken wheel spoke, three bent levers, a cracked dashboard and a few other busted

"On the way to the repair shop the Boss says: Sammy, I hope this may be a lesson to you.' "Why, what had you done?" said Eddie.

"That's what I asked him," said Sammy. "He didn't answer that, but kept right on and said: 'If you've got to skid into something, try to be sure it's something that won't kick your headlight off."

SPEAK FOR THE BLOOD

Skin Diseases speak for the blood and tell of the acid-lader oisonous condition of that vital fluid, and of its effort to throw off and poisonous condition of that vital fluid, and of its effort to throw off and rid the system of the poisons and waste matters that have accumulated in it. Eczema, Tetter, Acne, Salt Rheum, Psoriasis, Boils and diseases of this type are all caused by a weakened and polluted blood circulation, and though they may have lain dormant in the system during the cold weather, at the coming of Spring and Summer, when the blood is reacting and making extra efforts to expel all morbid and poisonous matter, they make their appearance. External remedies cannot cure; they soothe and give temporary relief, but often clog the pores and glands, and the poison causing

ADELAIDE RANDALL SUCCEEDS LACKAYE

New Leading Lady at West End Heights Will Begin Engagement Sunday.

Miss Adelaide Randall has been er gaged to succeed Miss Helen Lackaye as leading lady of the stock company playing at West End Heights. Miss Randall will begin her engagement next Sunday, when the company will produce "In the Hands of the Enemy." She was engaged last season as leading lady of the "Quincy Adams Sawyer" company playing in the South; two years ago she was with "Arizona."

Miss Marie De Trace, the new sou brette at the Heights, will also make her first appearance next Sunday. She has been here as the ingenue of the "Coon Hollow" company, and was with James Powers three years ago in "A Runaway Match." She succeeds Miss

This is the rehabilitation season with the theaters of St. Louis. If the ownlength comporting with the greater metropolitanism of St. Louis since the World's Fair, they will gradify their patrons. The theaters of St. Louis are much too barnlike upon the interior. How far from things modern they are is flustrated in the difference between the older houses and the new Garrick. The Garrick is carpeted, not in the aisles alone, as has been the custom with the older houses, but all over the floor of the house. Its thick green carpets have given it a parlor-like atmosphere which no other playhouse in the city possesses. Additionally, the Garrick is so seated that the audience is not cramped. There is a reasonable space between rows and between seats, and the chairs are comfortable. Why can't we have all the theaters of St. Louis seated in this up-to-date fashion? Some of the theaters need new paint and new fabrics—have needed them a long time. Others need new curtains. St. Louis is the fourth city of America, and its playhouses should reflect this large fact in their appointments. This is the time of year to overtake the procession. We have been sadly lagging. length comporting with the greater sadly lagging. Forrest Shackelford, a local tenor, has been engaged as a tenor with the musical company at Delmar Garden. He will be cast in the tenor part of "The Princess Chic" next week. The Delmar company has given more time and labor to the rehearsals of this pretty comic opera than have been given to any other piece produced at the garden this summer. "The Princess Chic" was written by the late Kirke La-Shelle, and the music is by Julian Edwards. It is a great deal more pretentious than the average musical piece of today, and the revival of it at Delmar United States in French, but there

Henri French, the French juggler at Forest Park Highlands, is different from the American jugglers, who take themselves altogether seriously in their work. French does a good deal of horse play which is funny. His impersonations of well-known composers and band-leaders are clever. The Toreador singers are among the best of the musical attractions on the vaudeville stage. Next week Col Hopkins will have another pair of ingenious musicians in West and Van Siclen, who head the bill. The other acts are McCue and Cahill, La Veen and Cross, De Onzo Brothers, Brothers Solls and the Biograph. The balloonists are at the Highlands, making ascensions when the weather permits.

The Berkeley Players are pluckily persevering in their efforts to give St. Louisans a taste of outdoor Shakspeare at Koerner's Garden, despite inclement weather. Owing to the heavy rains of the early part of the week, performances were impossible on the stage in the open air, therefore it was decided to postpone the opening in "As You Like it" until Sunday. "A Midsummer Night's Dream" was again played last evening before a well-pleased audience, and it will continue as the bill for the current week, as such a small proportion of the theater-going public has seen the production.

Miss Josephine Winters will appear as Rosalind in "As You Like it", Miss seen the O'Madigan as Celia, Miss Pear' Evans as Silvius, Alfred Britton as Orlando, Harry Powell as Jaques, Horace Lyndon as the banished duke, Will and the bill.

The Globe Theater has as headlingers this week the Kimble Sisters, in song and dance; La Vare, ventriloquist, with a number of talking figures; Raymond Wilderbrand, a child artist; Mohamed Kahn, magician; a funny sketch entitled "The Fellow That Looks Like Me." by George Guild and company; Luul Besselman, in illustrated songs, and new moving pictures are also on the bill.

DOG PLEADS 17'S OWN CASE

Tiny Terrier Leaps Into Witness Chair and Laughs Away Charges.

OMAHA, Neb., July 13.-Never was so small a dog as Penny Gavin arrested omaha, Neb., July 13.—Never was so small a dog as Penny Gavin arrested for being a suspicious and victious character. With the assistance of his own r. Philip Gavin, a lad of 10 years, living at 1006 North Forty-seventh avenue, Penny, a wee Scotch terrier, pleaded his own case, and thus saved his life. If it could have been proved that he had bitten the complainant. C. E. Snowers of Forty-seventh street and Lafayette avenue, the small dog would have been shot.

He and his young master walked into police court Friday morning, and the miniature terrier, a dog that could be carried about in a man s overcoat pocket, got on friendly terms with every officer present. When the case was called, and the Gavin boy went forward to the judge's desk. the little dog straightway leaped upon the witness stand, sat up in the chair and rested his small paws against the leg of the city prosecutor. His pink tongue slanted out of his mouth, and he seemed laughing at the charge brought against him. In speaking of the dog's character, the boy said:

"Your honor, my little dog, Penny, bears a good reputation in the neighborhood where he lives."

Here the dog barked, as if in approbation of these words said in his behalf, "He does not chase chickens—and as to bitting anybody, that is too ridiculous."

Penny now rested his paws against the judge's desk and looked over the edge of it. And the boy added:

"It is true that Penny had occasion to bite Mr. Showers, for Mr. Showers was throwing sticks at the little dog, Penny ran out and barked, but that is the extent of his crime."

Judge Berka then discharged the prisoner, and the boy and terrier pup left courtroom together, the dog barking joyfully and the boy trying to quiet the animal's exuberant demonstration. the damage was far greater and the

In summing up, the court stated that of the several defenses to the suit, the only really material one was that relating to the character of the storm. He defined what a cyclone was in the ordinary acceptation of the term and told the jurymen they must judge whether the storm could be placed in that class.

tem. The system was discharged on the night of the storm and much damage to the stock ensued. The policy had a clause exempting the company from damage caused by a cyclone.

Cyclones, counsel contended, as a rule, were more severe on substantial structures than on frame buildings, while the storm in question did far more damage to insubstantial structures than to those more solidy put up. Only 40 buildings of the 40(000 in the city were pushed over, he said, showing that the storm could not possibly have been cyclonic in its nature. Other cyclones, for insubstantiale. Papers Poke Fun at Government, Following Anglin Decision.

al to the Post-Dispatch. OTTAWA, Ont., July 13 .- The status of United States citizens in Canada un the alien labor law decision of Justice Anglin, came before the House Commons this week. Sir Wilfred Laurier jocosely said Canada did have a alien labor law a few days before, but he was not quite sure whether such was still the case. Monk, French-Canadian conservative who called attention to the fact that the Great Northwest Tele-Railway Co., had been importing a number of American citizens to do the work that could be done equally well

The decision of Justice Anglin, de claring deportation of the Pere Marquette Rallway officials ultra vires, being under consideration of the Department of Justice discussion in the Parliament is useless, therefore the questice officials are looking into the whole stion to report to the cabinet. If it is found, as Judge Anglin says, there be no appeal from nia decision, and the alien labor law is really inoperative, a" judgment will be secured in some other way, or fresh legislation had.

The position in which the Government is placed by having framed a statute that cannot be enforced is most ridiculous, and all the papers, including its own supporters, are making jokes over the quandary of the officers of the law

A sample of the comments on Judge Anglin's decision that Canada's power in regard to deportation does not extend beyond her own borders, and "the application of a propening force operating upon the persons of the deported," lacing them in the territory of the United States, would be an "extra te ritori

The second case was when George Radnor, 16 years, and his sister, aged 14, were driving. The animal they had was supposed to be of a quiet disposition. They had no trouble until they had reached Tabor road, where a number of small boys had placed torpedoes on the trolley track. A passing car exploded, the miniature bombs. The horse driven by the young persons became frightened and, taking the bit between his teeth, started up Second street pike at a gallop. After a vain endeavor to stop the horse the frightened pair screamed for help.

Miss Lloyd was riding her favorite horse and just as she turned into Second street saw the runaway. Whipping her horse into a gallop, she started in pursuit. After several squares of hard riding she succeeded in overtaking the runaway and, leaning from her saddle, secured the reins. She succeeded in stopping the team in front of the Olney substation, in time to receive the congratulations of the policemen who were leaving the building.

Several weeks ago a horse driven by Mrs. James Hagen of Germantown ran away on York road. Miss Lloyd, who was riding on York road, saw the accident and succeeded in stopping the animal.

The second case was when George Radnor, 16 years, and his sister, aged 14, were driving. The animal they had was supposed to be of a quiet disposition. They had no trouble until they had reached Tabor road, where a numbar of the woman whose home is at Fresho. The authorities refused to make public, the name of the woman the colored man would make his wife. They say that the laws of Nevada are stricter, if possible, than those of California in regard to the marriage of negroes or Chinese to whites. Candidates for Corps Had Lively Afternoon on Atlantic City Beach.

ATLANTIC CITY, July 13.—Severa thousand visitors watched 20 candidates thousand visitors watched 20 candidates for appointment as life guards as they were sent through the drill which is insisted upon before they can be named to protect the bathers. They were a healthy-looking lot, and they plunged into the breakers with a recklessness that won applause. Boats were shot through the breakers without being overturned or taking in a cupful of water, a trick that only experience and skill can master. Mimic rescues were made, and the first-aid methods to revive half-drowned persons were gone through. through.

one of them said: "Partner, what time is it?"

Instead of pulling out his watch Dr. Nether, and drew his revolver anapointing it at the two men, ordered them to walk in front of him, which they did as far as Fifth street. There they cut across the street to the Giris High School. Then they started west, and Dr. Netherland kept them in view until he saw them start down the Louisville & Nashville Railroad tracks. "I don't know whether they were intending to rob me or whether I left them with the impression that I was holding them up," said Dr. Netherland. "But I was not in a mood to take chances with strangers who step out of dark alleys on a dark night and ask the time.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.-Hamilton King, United States Minister to Siam and who has been seven years in Bangkok, has returned to this country for much-needed vacation, 'Slam's foreign trade last year, says finister King, amounted to nearly 50,000,000. England once enjoyed almost a monopoly, but Germany displacing Great Britain market. There is business there for America if she goes after it properly, and her opportunity was never better than now, for E. H. Stro-bell, professor of international law at Harvard University, under whose direction the Franco-Siamese treaty was

The King of Slam, although an absolute ruler, responsible only to himself, has within the last few years, of his own initiative, abolished slavery. He is now trying to stamp out gambling and Minister King says that by 1906, there will be no such thing in Slam. His Majesty of Slam is letting the gamblers down easily. He started in last year and declared gambling illegal in one-third of his kingdom. This year he placed the royal ban on games of chance in the second third and next year the remaining fraction will come under the anti-gambling law. And laws in Slam, according to Mr. King, are observed in spirit and to the letter.

There is much cholera in Bangkok at certain seasons. Smallpox also is prevalent in the land. Three months ago the Government established at Bangkok a well-equipped bacteriological laboratory, and shortly before Mr. King left 75 000 people had been vaccinated. The cholera problem is also receiving attention. Bangkok's water supply is not very good, but within a few months this will be remedied. Artesian water, free from all impurity, has been found in unlimited quantity, and before long the pople of Bangkok will be able to slake their thirst without necessity of swallowing cholera and other microbes.

Slam borrowed $5,000.000 a little while ago. The whole amount was subscribed eight times over in 30 minutes. These bonds constitute the country's sole indebtedness. ute ruler, responsible only to himself,

Look at Mr Morgan in a White Stovepipe

Like King's Edward's LONDON, July 13.-J. Pierpont Morgan has stamped the mark which King Edward, still the leader of fashion, has made the vogue this year, by appearing in public today wearing the now famous white stovepipe, with a broad black band.

The familiar derby with the crown tending to squareness, so long worn by the financier, has been discarded.

According to Mr. Burton, the king fisher adopted the brood after his mate had been killed and his nest robbed by Ruttiand boys, who were fishing for suckers in the creek. The boys found the birds nest in a hole in a sand bank, and, after taking the eggs, killed the mother kingfisher with a shotgun, Later the same duy they robbed several sand swallows' nests in the same bank and killed two birds.

These facts came to the bird-lover's knowledge and he was greatly distressed, us he had been closely studying the kingfisher, and was preparing to obtain photographs of the young as soon as they were hatched. He visited the bank immediately, and when he found it deserted and silent, came to the conclusion that all the birds had vacated. HOLDS TRAIN IN TUNNEL.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., July 13.—A passenger train on the Southern Railroad was caught in a tunnel near Tipton, five miles west of Andrews, during a nive miles west of Andrews, during a cloudburst, which washed away the bridges on each side of the tunnel and compelled the train, which was entirely cut off from all outside communication, to remain in the tunnel throughout the ontire night. The parsengers, several hundred in number, became panic stricken, for fear that their train would be darried down the mountain ravine, 300 feet below. Many treatles were washed away and railroad traffic was paralyzed.

The Closing.

Trading became highly professional as the market waned, and, with the exception of St. Paul and some of the specialties, the general list lost all of sits earlier gains. On all signs of approaching weakness, however, supporting orders were encountered, and, in the face of the Mght trading, these were sufficient to hold prices slightly below yesterday's closing figures. The failure of the Union Pacific directors to nobtain a quorum, supposedly to act on obtain a namipulatory character in Southern Pacific failed to steady the close, which was irregular and generally lower.

Clonelyding Sermons PITTSBURG, July 13.-Fifteen girls employed Estella Wells, a young negress, in the office of the company as a stenographer and typewriter. The strikers were employed at sewing mattresses and they demanded the dismissal of the colored girl because they claimed that a negress had no right to be employed at such pleasant work in the office while they were compelled to work in the factory. When the firm refused to dismiss the girl they struck. This morning the strikers linger about the factory and intimidate others from entering. Monday at 8 p. m. services will be held at Grace Church. ADAM'S EXCUSE

Saloonkeeper Fined in Spite of His Efforts to Blame His Wife.

George Geier, a saloon keeper at Secnd and Elm streets, was fined $50 by a jury in Court of Criminal Correction Wednesday for selling liquor on Sunday. After the case against Mrs. Geler, jointly charged with her husband, was olle prosequied. Geier set up the defense that his wife had sold the liquor, out he was held responsible. George Ratick, charged with selling iquor without a license, was dismisse when the principal witness for the State, Yobo Kubitz, testified that the drink was given, not sold. Kubitz was sent back to jail to serve out a fine for contempt of court, in refusing to re-turn and testify.

Joseph Orzoe, Pete Malone, Charles W. Sheviln, Charles Swetzer and Frank Defdol proved that they had applied for licenses and cases against them were also nolle prosequied.

President Meyer expects that business at the convention will be concluded Tuesday afternoon when all the delegates will return home. There are four general Lutheran bodies in America and a score of independent ones, with a total membership of 1,800,000. They say they have gained more in influence and membership in the last 20 years than any religious organization in America. The German Synod is the parent body, but it has cordially supported its offspring, the English Synod, and there is the best of good feeling between the two bodies. Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church has been prettily decorated and arrangs for the visiting delegates by its pastor, Rev. Martin S. Sommer. CUT AN ARTERY IN WRIST. New Jersey Girl Laments Lack of Beauty and Kills Herself. Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, July 13.—Miss Matilda King, on a visit to her aunt, Mrs. D. P. Thomas of Elizabeth, N. J., killed herself in the bathroom of the house, cutting an artery in her wrist and by cutting an artery in her wrist and by turning on a gas jet. She was found dead in the tub by her mother. The suicide was 22 years old. She frequently lamented that nature had not made her bandsome. She would often look in a mirror and weep. This became a mania with her. She was the only daughter of the late Col. Rufus King and niece of the late Chancellor Benjamin Williamson. The family were wealthy and prominent in society in Elizabeth and Washington.
